Course Description

Second City performer and theatre educator Jennine Profeta is back and ready to help you take your Improv classes to the next level. It's all getting students to perform - and how to be a great improv coach who can keep them supported and grounded (and having fun!)

In this course, you'll learn the golden rules of improv. You'll learn a bunch of improv games (great for warm-ups, teaching tools, and even for competitions). You'll learn Jennine's tips and tricks for what to look for when coaching and how to troubleshoot common issues.

The course is designed to help you improv as an ensemble and give you the know-how to coach with confidence whether it's in the classroom or on the stage!

About the Instructor

Jennine Profeta is an actor, improviser, writer and instructor at The Second City Training Centre in Toronto. After graduating with an Honours Theatre Degree from the University of Winnipeg, Jennine moved to Toronto to pursue her love of comedy. There she was a member of the first Conservatory Program in Toronto, and went on to be a member of The Second City's National Touring Company. She also spent a year working for The Second City aboard Norwegian Cruise Line's Jewel and Gem ships, performing and teaching in the Mediterranean and Caribbean.

As an instructor, Jennine has used her improv skills to train doctors, lead corporate training workshops and develop original works with young people. Through various organizations she teaches improv, prepares students for public performances and uses standard improv exercises to build self-esteem and develop confidence in young performers.

In addition to improv, Jennine has appeared in many commercials and was a principal player on Howie Mandel's "Howie Do It" on NBC. She's performed all over Canada, in the U.S. and Australia. She is the producer of the all-female comedy extravaganza Girls Nite Out and has written for television, radio, newspapers and magazines.
